	1	5	Olivia Bippus	OK	C0636	Unknown	Ott	A challenging class to start our show. Definitely three immature appearing ewe lambs. Our top pair are almost identical. Both of them are raw and green, but possess really good muscle and length of body. Our third place lamb has to be first or third because she's the odd one out.
	2	31	Katy-Jo Rivinius	TX	OK20CO 281	Flex	Ott Club Lambs	Really long bodied. Not as smooth in her shoulder nor as heavy boned as our class winner. But this top pair should be really interesting as they mature and develop phenotypically.
	3	26	Allison Lang	OK	C043		OTT	Our balanced ewe in the class and one that could have been the class winner stands third. She's the most complete yet shorter bodied and appears to be further along in her development. Could have won the class with the exception of her J neck. She will make one great ewe and will definitely have better days. Nice set of three.

	1	10	Carley Bowman	OK	Ok20- C0131	Fully Armed	Deb and Brad Ott	Class 2 brings us a pair of broody individuals. Muscle is abundant in both. Length from flank to flank is where the class winner excels our second place. Virtually first place ewe appears bigger and broodier. If I could change one thing, I would like to see our class winner profile taller at the point of her shoulders. When we get her in motion, she does that for us.
	2	19	Marisa O'Brien	KS	C086	Going Command o		Our second place ewe is a really balanced, complete ewe that reminds me of our third place ewe in Class 1. Here's one with plenty of muscle and pretty good. Just gets out-horsed in this drive.

Grand Champion Breeding Ewe Champion Hampshire Breeding Ewe	1	7	Liam Clark	CA	A885	Ring the Bell	Ott Club Lambs	Class that fits together very easily for me. A matching pair on the top. They're both smooth, big ribbed, big topped, and can get around the yard with ease.
	2	13	Anna McCord	KY	OK20CO 117		Ott	My second placed ewe is not as good ribbed and not as good at the point or out our rump, but this pair fits together and this pair is good.
	3	36	Luke Poe	OK	C0252	Flex	Ott club lambs	Problem child in the class. Is she stout enough? Yes. Does she have a big rib and the most broody one in the class? No doubt. But as we build them deeper and wider we have to continue make our females look feminine. This would make one great wether.
	4	11	Madison Dohlman	OK	CO247	Flex	Ott	To round out our class, another high quality ewe that's not as fat and not as ready. Give her some time and she'll push to be in the top two.

	1	27	Dylan Blanchard	LA	C0241	Flex	Ott	Here's a complete one to start a good class. She's smooth, extended, heavy muscled and looks like a female should. Wins this class quite handily.
	2	32	Hailey Gillespie	KS	C0244	Flex	Ott Club Lambs	The one that closely follows our class winner has the same neck set. As we get right our her dock, she's not as powerful. But talk about one that puts them on the corners.This one does.
	3	22	Hannah Whetstone	KS	KSS042 0A881	Command o	Stroble	One that appears to be the small one in class. Super balanced. Super complete. Just not enough to her to win it.
	4	35	Landon Poe	OK	C026	Loaded dice	Ott club lambs	To round out our class, a really breeding piece that we could move up higher if we could set her shoulder back in her just a little. But you got to love her bone and the amount of muscle she brings to us.

Third Overall Breeding Ewe Reserve Champion Hampshire Breeding Ewe	1	14	Marisa O'Brien	KS	A8014	Ring the Bell	Flex	Good pair here. Both plenty thick. Good ribbed. I like how athletic the first place ewe is to win the class.
	2	16	Haleigh O'Brien	KS	A810	Fully Armed		Here's a heavy muscled one that's really good. Would like to see her get off of her back wheels a little freer. Sweet pair of ewes.

Reserve Champion Crossbred Breeding Ewe	1	30	Karsen Stephens	OK	CO28	Loaded Dice	Ott Club Lambs	Another really smooth ewe lamb that has her shoulders and her neck laid in her right. When you get her on the move, she doesn't disappoint.
	2	34	Brooklyn Suggs	OK	A832		Ott	The blue ewe lamb in second is also high quality. She has plenty of muscle and plenty of bone. She just needs some time.

Reserve Grand Champion Breeding Ewe Champion Crossbred Breeding Ewe	1	4	Rachel Hendricks	KS	C020	Loaded Dice	Ott Club Lambs	I start this class with one of the thinner ewes we've seen today. She's open through her rib, long and smooth down her top and out her rump. Probably the nicest front-third of a body that we've seen today.
	2	9	Trey Newby	KS	A806	Loaded Dice		Here's one that's sure stout and wide but when we put her in motion, she shortens up and wants to get heavy fronted compared to our class winner. Too bad she's not a wether.
	3	37	Chayda Carpenter	OK	Co272	Flex	Ott club lambs	The blue-appearing ewe is complete, plenty of muscle, plenty of bone. Would just like to make her come out of the top of her shoulders just a little better. The second and third place ewes were definitely could be swapped.
	4	20	Carter Hauf	MO	KSS042 0 A820	Flex	OTT	Another long-bodied good ewe maybe doesn't have the amount or texture of muscle of the ewes ahead of her. Four different but good ewes.

	1	8	Trey Newby	KS	C0122	Fully Armed		A single entry ewe with a ton of muscle and shape. If we could change her, I would like to see her relax her top when she shows.

Reserve Grand Champion Market Lamb Champion Hampshire Market Lamb	1	6	Tessa Casey	OK	Ok 20- C0127	Fully Armed	Ott Club Lambs	As we move into our terminal wether show, we have an easy class winner in this super balanced, really square wether.
	2	18	Jackson O'Brien	KS	A8002	Next Level		Here's the really big rack, good ribbed lamb in the class. Muscle is not the issue here. But I would sure like to lengthen his neck and get off his back right foot better. Sweet.
	3	24	Hannah Whetstone	KS	OK20C0 19	Dice	Deb/Ott	Here's the one I would like to feed. He's got some really cool days ahead. Another 60-90 days makes him my class winner.
	4	1	Saige Morgan	OK	Ok20- C001	Loaded Dice	Deb and Brad Ott	All these wethers have plenty of muscle. This one is no exception. He doesn't have the flair or look of the one above him.

Reserve Champion Hampshire Market Lamb	1	25	Hannah Whetstone	KS	OK20C0 116	Fully Armed	Deb/Ott	I had a feeling we would run into this class. All good wethers but not one that just separates himself from the others. Being that we're in the wethers. we have to start with the heaviest muscled and heaviest boned one.
	2	3	Rachel Hendricks	KS	A8015	Flex	Stroble Club Lambs	The profiling sheep of the set is in second, but I think you will agree that he need some time to get stouter boned and thicker made. He looks great from the side.
	3	29	Camdan Postier	OK	C072	No next level		Another heavy muscled wether. Just not as much flair to his outer leg, but with a few more pounds, this wether has a future.
	4	15	Taylor O'Brien	KS	A8014	Ring the Bell		We round out our class with a wether that we can say the same thing about as we did the one above him. Maturity and time will be in his favor. There's going to be a lot of lamb here some day.

Grand Champion Market Lamb Champion White Face Market Lamb	1	2	Rachel Hendricks	KS	A840	Fully Armed	Stroble Club Lamb	Make this one any color. He's a good one. Long, thick and gets around the yard like cat. Enough said.
Third Overall Market Lamb Reserve Champion White Face Market Lamb	2	12	Kenzie Brown	TX	C0107	Fully Armed	Ott club lambs	The conventional wether in second is tremendously thick, good ribbed. Not as deep in his twist or heavy in his structure as the class winner. Take him to the fair and get ribbons.
	3	21	Claire Deardorff	MO	KSS042 0 A849	Fully Armed	OTT	The thinner green one rounds out our class. There will be a time that this guy could get really good.

Champion Crossbred Market Lamb	1	23	Hannah Whetstone	KS	OK20C0 254	Flex	Deb/Ott	Heavy, heavy muscled blue that I would like to analyze in person. You have to appreciate his bone and balance. Would like to see him relax as we get more time in on showing. He could push the blues.
